Research has shown that eight week mindfulness courses are effective in improving general wellbeing, sharpening attention and increasing resilience in dealing with life's pressures. Mindfulness is a mental training that reduces the tendency to go through life on autopilot, by learning to pay more attention to thoughts, feelings and experiences as they arise. In so doing it can change the way we relate to our day to day experiences and relationships and reduce stress. Rather than worrying about what has happened or what might happen, mindfulness trains us to respond skilfully to whatever is happening right now. In this course mindfulness meditation is presented in a practical and experiential way. There is a strong focus on learning skills that can be applied in everyday situations at work or home.

PARTICIPANTS

There will be a maximum of fourteen participants on the course. It is open to anyone who is interested in gaining a life skill that helps them to live more in the present moment and be better equipped to respond rather than react to life as it happens.

LEARNING OUTCOMES

- Learning different forms of mindfulness practice that can be used to train our attention
- Understanding about autopilot and looking at how mindfulness can help us to disengage from automatic ways of thinking so that we choose how we respond rather than finding ourselves habitually just reacting to situations
- Seeing the link between thoughts and the state of our mind and body
- Learning why we react the way we do during stressful situations or social interaction, and practice applying mindfulness to those stressful situations / interactions
- Learning how to experience life more directly and step out of the sometimes relentless commentary of our thoughts.

TO PARTICIPATE IN THE COURSE

Please contact the Oakdale Centre if you require further information or to request an application form. Places will be allocated on a first come first served basis with a non refundable deposit of £50.00 being required to reserve your place. The balance is payable either before or at the first session. Cancellation policy applies, please ask for more details. Participants will receive a Certificate of Attendance at the end of the course.

Testimonials from recent mindfulness courses given by Annika

'This was an excellent, practical and useful course with intelligent, informed and skilful guidance from someone who has personal experience of the positive benefits of the practices'

'I now have the ability to take myself out of my internal chatter. I wish I had done this course years ago. The techniques make such a difference to the way I live my life.'

'When I first saw the flyer I wasn't sure if this was for me. However I decided to do it and am so pleased I did. I have already recommended it to several friends.'

I had tried to learn a little mindfulness from a book with little success. I would definitely recommend a course to learn mindfulness– the classes add a whole dimension that just can't be captured otherwise.

When asked what participants had got from the course of lasting value, these are some of their answers:

'Has really helped with my well-being, self esteem and being kinder to myself.

'A way of dealing with stress and anxiety which can lead to happier living'

'The ability to notice my thoughts and be more self aware so I can choose how to respond rather react'

'A way of dealing with stress and anxiety which can lead to happier living'

'Appreciating the moment, Taking time out of a hectic schedule and starting to see the present'

'Before the course I was practicing mindfulness on a very small scale,. The course has really opened my options with mindfulness and for it to really come part of my life in a very practical way'

Impressions of the training

'Loved every session , looked forward to it each week'

'Very focused, informative and useful. Good balance of theory and practical'

'Just to say thank you for a wonderful experience. I will take lots from the training with me and will use it regularly.'
